

COLONEL JAMES HUNTER DRUM, U. S. A., RETIRED

March 23, 1977

Admiral Stansfield Turner, USN
Director, Central Intelligence
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner,

It was gratifying to me to view you on the program "Face the Nation" on last Sunday. I thought your response to the questions of the "Three Blind Mice" was outstanding. The answers were clear, concise and to the point. I think the term "Three Blind Mice" is about as charitable a title as I can give that panel. I congratulate you and wish you well in restoring the dignity of the American Intelligence Community in general and particularly the CIA to its rightful place in the eyes of our own countrymen and friendly foreign nations.

I had the privilege of meeting you on several occasions at the de Weldon's in Newport when you were President of the Naval War College. With sincere best wishes.

Yours truly,

James H. Drum
